

Enlighten the world. Enrich your career.
reuters.com/careers

Reuters is a global information company providing indispensable information tailored for professionals in the financial services, media and corporate markets. Our information is trusted and drives decision making across the globe. We have a reputation for speed, accuracy and freedom from bias.

Journalism Internship - Tokyo

Reuters Japan seeks talented student journalists with a passion for breaking news to work as interns in Tokyo during the summer of 2008. There is nothing like the constant deadline of a news agency to hone your reporting and writing skills. The ten-week paid internships are a crash course in hands-on business, political and general news reporting. A Reuters internship offers student journalists a global audience of leading media outlets, financial decision-makers and savvy internet readers totalling more than a billion people every day. Reuters has a track record of hiring the best of our summer interns at the end of the summer or after they graduate. Reuters seeks journalists who are curious about the world. We want to know what experiences in your life set you apart and make you passionate about journalism.

JOB SPECIFICATIONS – REQUIRED SKILLS, KNOWLEDGE AND EXPERIENCE

- Seniors and graduate students with a background in journalism or East Asia studies
- All applicants should have an interest in business journalism
- Fluency in written and spoken Japanese essential

Please send with postmark by Jan. 31

- Resume with details on level of fluency in Japanese
- One page cover letter
- Two academic or job-related letters of recommendation
- Three to five clips.

Send your application to:

Fumika Inoue
Reuters Japan
3F Shuwa Kamiyacho Bldg
4-3-13 Toranomom
Minato-ku, Tokyo 150-0001

For questions about the Tokyo internship contact Eric Burroughs at eric.burroughs@reuters.com